Story

Get Premium Dog or Cat Food delivered to your door, when you need to, on your schedule, all year round for $39 a month.

Funding period

Nov 13 2015 - Nov 23 2015 (10 days)

Firstly, there is nothing like this that exists online. My website prototype, is at <http://www.petspectation.com> and I programmed a new concept for Pet Food delivery nationally.

The concept is simple: Pay $39 a month and as a member, you request and get delivered to you, on your schedule, all the dog or cat food you need.

And, as a paid member, you'll also be able to send deliveries of dog or cat food to your friends anywhere in the U.S. or Canada as well for free.

Petspectation.com (still in a prototype beta mode) is a website I own and am in the process of programming which is a Pet Food aggregator website powered by software and logic that connects premium pet food fulfillment centers (i.e. traditionally called "suppliers"!) with overstock or inventory they wish to liquidate or sell at a very reduced rate to a vast (hopefully) bank of paid consumer members who, for a monthly fee, starting at $39 per month, paid monthly members can request unlimited deliveries of available pet food (dog or cat food) or no additional fee of pet food immediately available to ship for one monthly fee. 1 bag at a time, and when they receive their shipment, two business days later, schedule another delivery. There is no additional fees, just the $39 per month to join the dog food plan, or cat food plan, or $59 a month for both the dog and cat food plan. Prices are in U.S. Dollars and are subject to change and our fulfillment partners (i.e. suppliers) will be located in the USA and Canada are shipping to the USA and Canada for shipments destined to be delivered to any USA or Canadian address.

Consumers who wish to be members subscribe to a plan, and only pay $39 a month and as a member, they can request as many deliveries as they'd like, respecting the terms and conditions, one bag at time, shipped to any address in the USA or Canada for them, or they can share and schedule deliveries to their friends.

Moreover, members can, at the time of scheduling a new delivery, order additional pet food or pet related items. The more engagement, the more chance for an upsell and therefore it's important for me to invest (with your support!) in marketing and programming integrated software initiatives to increase potential client engagement and thus, increase brand experience through our website, via a mobile app (not yet developed) and traditional means (i.e. telephone and mail order ordering as well) as well.

Here's how it works:

- Schedule a new Pet Food delivery two business days after you received your shipment; for you, your friends, a relative (in another State even!) or colleagues.
- No limit on the number of deliveries you can request or what U.S. States you would like to ship to.
- Share and schedule a pet food delivery, anytime, for your friends & relatives for FREE.
- Free Standard Shipping Included. Express shipping available at a premium, if desired.

How we're different than Subscription Pet Food Service

You decide when and how often.

Unlike Pet Food Subscription websites, who ship a certain size bag of pet food on a fixed delivery frequency, to just your address, with us, YOU CAN schedule a delivery, when you need to, as often as you'd like, on the schedule you choose TO YOU, your friends, your relatives, your colleagues, anyone.

You decide where.

Off to the cottage or vacation for a while? Schedule your pet food delivery to be shipped to any address of your choice in the Continental U.S.

Ship to you or your friends for FREE.

You can schedule a Dog or Cat Food delivery, when you want, shipped to YOU, or schedule a pet food delivery to your friends, your elderly aunt or uncle in another State, your son or daughter off studying out of State, or to anyone else you'd like.

You decide the size bag shipped.

You decide to schedule a delivery of either standard or large bag of pet food. You may want a large bag for your home, and maybe a standard size bag shipped to your cottage, or friends house. That decision up to you.

It's Pet Food, anytime you need it.

Our Pet Food Fulfillment centers and partners are located across the United States, making it that you will receive your scheduled pet food delivery in the standard delivery times. Want a scheduled delivery Faster? Have peace of mind that you'll have the option of Express shipping for a premium. It's entirely up to you.

Satisfaction Guaranteed, or your money back.

Unlike Pet Food Subscription services where you pay for a block of time, our services will continue on the billing cycle you select to ensure you never run out of pet food. There's no risk, as you can cancel at anytime and receive an applicable credit for unused amount of days paid in your current service period.

Risks and challenges

We count on up-selling additional products and / or pet related services on each client interaction. When a paid member signs up, and is a member, they will have access to an online portal where they can select the bag of food available at that time, select an address and have it shipped to them. They may also, at that time, order additional bags of food for them or someone else, for a premium. The idea of this site is to simply pet food distribution via our fulfillment partners and at the same time, up-sell products by encouraging engagement. The funds raised in this kickstarter project will help complete and fund software initiatives on our online store and to encourage member sign-ups, member referral incentives, membership engagement and maximize the shopper experience to increase the percentage of up-selling of additional products.
