Story

I created this game: Rise of the Penguins GB over the summer since I was interested in gameboy games and other retro games. I had a lot of fun learning the process of 2d platformer games.

The game is posted here on itch io. It is free to play online and download in .gb and .pocket formats.

About the Game

"Rise of the Penguins" is a 2D side-scrolling platformer for the Game Boy. Simple controls yet challenging, it features tough enemies and draws inspiration from classics like Ghosts 'n Goblins and Mega Man.

Gameplay

Full playthrough of the game

Status of the game

- 6 levels with a variety of enemies in each level

- 4 mini boss enemies and 4 boss enemies and a final boss
- 4 simple difficulty settings to adjust checkpoints to make the game harder or easier, with checkpoints resetting after a game over but modifiable through these settings.
- Basic Hud that shows the high score, health and time remaining
- Janky animations made by me
- Minimal story with no text -but hoping the game is engaging enough to keep playing

(this information is from the itch io page for the game)

Explanation of campaign

Description

Main reason to do the Kickstarter in the first place would be overhauling the backgrounds and making the game look more professional. The sprites won't be overhauled though but I believe by changing the backgrounds it will change the way the game looks and will be cost effective way at making the game look a lot better. I am always open to the level design on tweaks and things that need to be changed.

I am not sure how much potential this game has but I want to try and get it towards that 5000-10,000 download range by a combination of hard work, good levels and features like fun mechanics as well as having decent artwork that can make the game more appealing to people who prefer nice looking art work.

Main goals

300$ is main goal to overhaul all of the backgrounds of the 6 main levels in the game. This is going to cover the costs to pay 1 artist to do all 15 of them and if there are funds that remain than additional backgrounds.

- all 6 levels backgrounds will be done to look more professional
- potential to draw more attention and reach new audiences to folks who are turned off by the way the game looks currently compared to other gameboy homebrew games.
- if funds allow maybe can also overhaul the backgrounds in my "dlc sized expansion"

500$ is stretch goal to get the game on steam and it will be there for free. I don't have any prior experience porting .gb games to steam so I will be using the bubble wrap tool. If there's a system that you want me to port the game to and the tools are free I don't mind porting that and just adding it to the itch page.

2000$ is goal if wanted to overhaul the sound. I don't have anyone in mind at the moment who could do the music but from research the cost is high. Therefore the stretch goals is more of a dream.

- main music for all 6 levels
- boss music if funds allow separate boss music for certain bosses

Future Plans

The future plans of the game regardless of whether or not the Kickstarter gets fulfilled are

- 2 extra levels that will be accessible in this hub area
- 1 secret boss for getting all the fish throughout the 6 main levels
- boss rush mode that will include all of the bosses and mini bosses in the game
- something in the ghost n goblins series is reimagining the levels because you normally have to play the game twice to get the true ending. I don't have any plans at the moment to reimagine the existing levels but it's something I am thinking about but will have to see after I get this "dlc sized expansion" completed.

Contacted about physical release but no signs of interest

As for a physical release I have contacted various companies that do the physical releases but haven't heard anything back from them. But if I do and am able to make a deal with them I will restart the campaign and include the physical release into the rewards.

Risks and challenges

The game is already in a completed state just awaiting "dlc sized expansion". Risk may include background art from artist actually looking worse than the original backgrounds but that is highly unlikely but still possible.

Use of AI

I plan to use AI-generated content in my project.

What parts of your project will use AI generated content? Please be as specific as possible.

The game already uses ai for the cover art and assets in the game.

Do you have the consent of owners of the works that were (or will be) used to produce the AI generated portion of your projects? Please explain.

Yes there is no problem at the moment due to the fact that the game is FREE and all checkpoints, loras and tools used are in the itch io page.
