~The issue~

When applying for a new job...

How do I demonstrate my intrinsic values through words on paper?
 How do I display my genuine enthusiasm when applying for the job?
 How do I show that I would be a good fit in their environment?
 How do I truly promote my value right from the start?

Answer: by giving employers the ability to “Cme before my cv”.

~Why Kickstarter~

This is the start of our journey. There would be nothing better than being able to say; the generosity of the Kickstart community made CMe a reality.

The app is available for download(beta version).
Modifications still need to be finalized but feel free tell us what you think!
Your feedback would help a lot!

Our goal of $50,000.00 won't cover everything, but it will help “kickstart” our launch within the year.

If you can help us hit this target, one of our first goals will be to donate at least $100,000.00 back to this amazing Kickstart program.

Thanks for reading! Your support will be truly appreciated!

Risks and challenges

The challenges right now are simply having the time and budget to successfully launch this project.

Environmental commitments

Something else

(indirectly) By reducing the need for a first "in-person" face to face meeting. It...

- Reduces amount of travelling for interviews.
- Gives time back to both employer and jobseeker.
- Condenses the timeline of the recruitment process.
