Story

bbPress Notify Pro is the evolution of the popular bbPress Notify \(no-spam\) plugin. Written from scratch, it will contain all of the features of the original Notify plugin plus several improvements requested by users over time.

Funding period

Dec 13 2014 - Jan 12 2015 (30 days)

Messages

- Send out HTML emails as well as text;
- Notification frequencies include immediate, daily digest, and weekly digest;
- Extra template shortcodes such as "lead-in text", "top 10 topic/reply list", and "topic/reply list" for digests.

User Interface

- Users can specify which forums they receive notifications for (eligible forums controlled by an admin);
- Messages can contain an opt-out link, inserted into the template by a shortcode;

Admin Control/Settings

- Admins set the time of delivery for daily digest messages, and date/time for weekly digest messages;
- Admins can specify to which forums users are allowed to subscribe;
- Roles can be used to control delivery;
- Enable Background delivery (via WordPress cron job)

Risks and challenges

My main concern will be to handle sending mail-outs on Godaddy servers. In my experience, they kill any process (web or not) that runs for more than 30 seconds.

To solve this problem, I will either choose to send messages in batches or use a queue table that will be read, updated, and committed at each mail-out iteration.
