Story

The way in which candidates are applying for jobs, is changing.
The expectations of the prospective employer, are also changing.

We know that validating prior professional experience is critical in the recruiting stages.

Steven D. Levitt, the co-author of Freakonomics, and an economics professor at the University of Chicago cites research suggesting that more than 50% of job applicants lie on their resumes.

Our Tool

Our tool will innovate the validation process of past employment and professional experience. In addition, our tool is far more trusted, accurate & interactive, than the previous process around professional validation. Organizations can trust our tool to be valuable and meaningful, which is critical in these stages of recruiting.

Benefits for Candidates:

- Eliminate the reactive approach for seeking professional validation
- Interactive
- EASY
- Fun

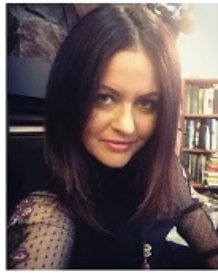

Benefits for Employers:

- Save 70% of time seeking professional validation on candidates
- Real time information
- Improve the value and accuracy in this process
- EASY
- Trusted

An experienced Human Resources Leader with over 10 years' experience in diverse environments, with Canadian and U.S expertise, and exposure Globally.

Being fully involved in the recruiting process, both from an HR perspective and candidate, I realized that the way Recruiters/Hiring Managers interact with candidates can be improved. We need to make it more personal and customized to stay engaged with our talent.

In addition, there are several processes within the recruitment realm, that delay decisions and simply waste time. One of which is the validation of prior experience. My tool will be:

- Proactive
- Accurate
- Easy to use
- Interactive

I look forward to hearing from you regarding my initiative. Please feel free to leave comments, or send us an email at info@hrpmgroup.com

Risks and challenges

With diverse and strategic experience in Human Resources and People development, when candidates are seeking a new opportunity, they don't want to waste time.

This tool will enable both the candidate and the employer to transition through the recruiting stages efficiently.
